right: Mike Worthington, Alex Micale, and Andy Morris are captivated by yet another Russo rant

left: Cami Burningham and D.J. Fairbanks hanging out on the stairs at the National Honor Society Craft Fair

below: Abandoning his usual method of peaceful protest, Darshan Gandhi instead elects to decimate his opponents

...connections We are all connected. Every last girl, boy, man, and woman on this planet is connected in some way or another. In high school, the connections are even stronger. We are connected to the people that were with us in the years that made us who we are now. High school connected us. Chances are, you know more people than you can count. People in the halls, teachers you never had, these are just a few of many connections you have. We've all been brought together by North Attleboro High School...

MAKE THE CONNECTIONS

below: Rob Sheehan, Amanda Parker, Tierney Richardson, Lauren Sexton, Peter Clarner, Lucas DeForest, Jen Nettnay, Caylyn Houde, and Elise D'Adamo lookin very snazzy at Homecoming

...connections We live in an age of connections. Our grandparents were connected by letters and postcards; our parents by telephones. Our generation is, by far the most connected in history. The internet connects us all through instant messaging and email. Myspace and Facebook nuts are never out of touch. In this day and age, it is almost unheard of for anyone of any age to not have a cell phone on them at all times. These connections have made us both closer together and farther apart. We can connect instantaneously at anytime of day, but we also are deprived of personal conversation. Could we turn into a cold, impersonal society? It's possible. It's also possible that our newfound connection will allow us to become closer to more people and we could become the most tightly interwoven society in history...

 above: Kevin Markie looks way too happy as he waits for Meg Dean to get her stuff from her locker right: John Farroba and Jamie Kelley look pretty pumped that it's the end of the day

 below: Brittany Pereira, Sarah Cronholm, and Brittany Dunn had a great time at the Craft Fair.

...connections We don't realize how connected we are. Our classes, our clubs, our sports; they all connect us. You, your friends, your classmates, that kid you took history with as a freshmen (What was his name again?), and even people you see in the halls are all connected. We all share something; a class, a game, an experience, a memory. Maybe you were Pickleball partners. Maybe you were in Spanish together. It doesn't matter. You will be forever connected. High school made us who we are. It turned us from adolescents into adults. We have been forever impacted by the experiences of these four, crazy years. No matter where we go or what we become, we will always be connected by our experiences at North...

below: Derek Galvin, Danielle Vanesse, and Colin Goodwin watch Derek show off his computer prowess

...connections Where do we go from here? Right now it seems like things could never change. We've been together since we were little. Everything we've done in the last twelve years, from learning to studying to paryting, has been done with the same group of kids. We've grown up together. Whether you loved high school or hated it, it still made you the person you are by connecting you with hundreds of other people who, for better or worse, will always be a part of you. We became a family within these walls and, like it or not, we will always be connected...

UNDERCLASSMEN

So some of them may still think we have a pool, but it's cool. We like them anyway. As Mr. Gay said, "I think Freshmen are great. I recommend everyone get one. They make great pets..." And sure, sophomores are cocky and those Juniors, well they think they're little grown ups or something, but we were all there once too.

The Junior class of 2006-2007 was defined by its many accomplishments. We started the year off on a positive note, tying with the seniors in the annual fall rally. Interpreting the tie as a victory, we, the class of '08 proved we could hold our own against the strong favorites and pave our own way through the long-held traditions of NAHS. Later in the year, our class won the spirit contest on hat day, putting the freshmen, sophomores, and seniors to shame. As the winter season came, we decided to give back to the community, as class officers Katy Flannery, Alix Vandeventer, Madison Hebert, and John Wagner organized a toy drive for the Christmas Is For Kids foundation. As spring arrived, we held our prom at the Providence Convention Center. With the theme of "Havana Nights", the prom committee did an excellent job decorating and organizing the prom, and everyone had a great time. In addition, with the help of the sophomore class, we held the first NAHS pickleball tournament. It proved to be one of our most successful fundraisers, and we look forward to it next year. As the Junior class, we enjoyed our reign from '06 to '07 and we look forward to senior year in 2008.

Junior Prom

What were your impressions of Junior Prom 2007

“I had an amazing time at Junior Prom! It was nice to see everyone dressed up. We all had a good time together and everyone was dancing.”

– Ashley Childers

Juniors making connections that they'll never forget.

The night of April 28th, 2007, the junior class arrived to the Providence Convention Center, eagerly awaiting their class's first experience at the prom.

The convention center, decorated with the bright colors of hawaiian blossoms was as bright and radiant as the smiles on the juniors's faces as they entered onto the dance floor.

Dressed in their finest, the class of 2008 then dined in style before making their way to the dance floor, where they grooved to the DJ's smooth beats.

The Prom court was then announced and Prom King and Queen Ramon Green and Margo Tuzzo were crowned as they took to the floor for a romantic dance. The Havana spirit was in the air as the Junior prom would be a night to remember.

Right: Kaitlin Crozier and David Barton show everyone on the dance floor how to have a great time.

This year's prom was better than I could have possibly imagined. The decorations were gorgeous, the music was great and it was so much fun to see my friends dressed up and having a great time!"

- Kevin Connolly

Our junior prom was SO much fun. Everyone was having a blast dancing to music, taking pictures and making memories that will last forever."

- Angela Hillsman

Everything came together really well and the room looked absolutely amazing. The coordinators' hard work and effort really paid off because they did a great job"

Dave Butters

Our year as the Sophomore class has had its share of ups and downs, but it also left us with some memorable experiences. We've moved on far beyond our freshman mindset, taking on more responsibilities, such as hosting the freshman sophomore social for the first time. We also helped host the annual Junior and Senior powderpuff football game, which proved to be a great success. Faced with many new changes and challenges, we survived the almost endless bubbling in the circles of the MCAS tests. To conclude our eventful year, the Sophomore class proudly held the first schoolwide pickleball tournament, which was a complete success for the sophomore class and a blast for everyone involved. We proudly look back on both the successes and mistakes that defined our Sophomore year, ready to come back as the Juniors of NAHS. Two years down, only two to go!

Underclassmen making connections

On December 8, 2006, excitement filled the middle school cafeteria as freshmen sophomores, and upper-classmen alike arrived at the much anticipated freshman-sophomore social.

With girls shining in their glittery dresses and boys sporting satin ties, the social was definitely the place to be that Friday night.

Students could let loose as they hopped on the dance floor where they grooved while the DJ played the songs they loved.

To the newest members of the school, the freshman sophomore social was a memorable night in which they could just dance and enjoy a great night out with their friends.

"The spirits were high and the music made the night -the social was an event filled with great memories that I'll always remember."

-Robin Armstrong

Brett Porier

"The freshman-sophomore social was a great break from school, as well as an awesome night that I will never forget."

-Owais Khan

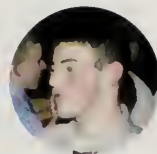

Jacquie Hurley

"The social was an amazing night. The music the DJ was playing was great to dance to. I can't wait until next year's social!"

As our freshman year comes to an end, all the freshmen can safely say, "No, there is no swimming pool." We started the year off timid and shy, but in no time we got the hang of the ways of the high school and made our stand in NAHS academics and athletics. We take pride in the many freshmen who lettered for varsity sports this year and those who were honored with awards at our first academic awards ceremony.

As many freshmen before us, we started our year off with the Freshman-Sophomore Social as well as multiple Renaissance Ceremonies. Looking back at all our freshman trials and tribulations, as the year comes to an end, we spend our last days as the school "newbies". We can all safely say that we will be glad to return as Sophomores.

SPORTS

"North Attleboro High School is first and foremost an academic institution." Sure, Mr. Gay. Sports are a huge part of Big Red. Every boy and girl that suits up in red and white is part of a tradition that has put North on the map and created the true spirit of "Big Red Country." We practice hard, we work hard, and we play hard. Our fans paint their faces and brave sometimes brutal weather to root on all those students who call themselves Rocketeers.

FOOTBALL

It's about HEART. The 2006 football season was a roller coaster of a season. It had its highs, it had its lows. But when it was over each player left there mark on tradition, that is North Attleboro Football. Also each player showed character and by character I mean those three letters that the North Attleboro Program lives on LTD. Loyalty, toughness, and discipline. This team showed all these aspects of North football by the teaching and help they received from the wonderful coaching staff at North Attleboro.

The 2006 Red Rocketeers started off the season strong with six straight wins, a win streak that included a tough win against a strong Foxboro team on the road. But in week seven and eight the team received two tough losses. One loss of course was against Mansfield where we played them at Community Field with 5,000 plus fans watching the game. It was a sight that no one on this team will ever forget. North won the last two games of the season including a Thanksgiving Day Mud Bowl win over Attleboro.

As the seniors leave they hope to take the lessons they have learned playing at North and using them in the future life ahead of them. The seniors also wish the best of luck to the Juniors, Sophs, and Freshmen as we hope they keep carrying on the winning tradition at North Attleboro.

A Year of Dedication

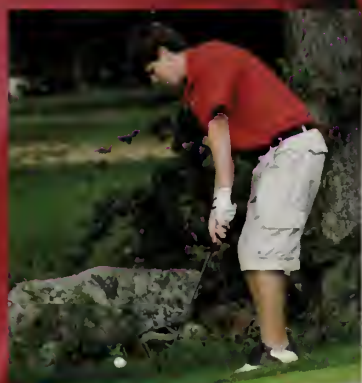

GOLF

Although this year was not the most successful season in the recent history of the North Attleboro golf program, this team had to be one of the most dedicated groups in the NA's history.

Overall, the team did not play very well the first half of the season, as our record stood at 5-6 immediately after a tough loss at home to Attleboro. It would have been so easy for the team to give up trying for the rest of the year, but our team was too tough for that. We then turned the table and ran off six straight victories, including dramatic back-to-back one shot victories over K.P. and Canton to start the streak. In that span, the team won at three away courses that North golf had previously never claimed victory at. With that success, this year's senior class had won at every course we have ever played on (nobody needs to know about T.P.C. at Boston). When we made it to the D2 State Tournament, the team met it with tremendous success. North took fourth place in the D2 Southeastern Sectional, and finished with the lowest score of any team in the Hockomock League. In addition to our success at States, the team also successfully defended our Hockomock League Sportsmanship Award. We have to say that in the four years we have played here, this year's group had a commitment and love for the game of golf unrivaled by any previous team we have played on.

GIRLS' CROSS COUNTRY

The North Girls Cross Country Team once again proved that they have what it takes to wear red and white this 2006 season. Our small but close-knit 10 person team demonstrated that hard work and determination can lead to both individual and team success on the course. Although the mile repeats, long runs, and hill workouts proved difficult at practice, the improvements that each runner made this year and the fun times we had both on and off the track, roads, and hills made it all worthwhile. We'll never forget the team sleepover, the trip to Diamond Hill and the Ice Cream Machine on Halloween, or our many pre-season team dinners at Olive Garden and Papa Ginos. Statistically, we finished off a great season with a 4-4 Hock record and even beat our rival Attleboro in the very first meet of the season. However, a 5-4 record isn't what I will remember most about this season. It is the people that I've run with and literally, the miles of memories that we've made along the way that I will never forget. Thank you Coach Estey and the entire team for another amazing season. I'm really going to miss you girls next year. Good luck and show 'em what it takes to wear red and white!

The 2006 cross country season was quite a memorable one. As Coach McGrail put it, it was one of the best seasons in over twenty years and will surely go down in the record books. We started training early in the summer and did not stop until the end of the season. The third week of school brought about our first Hockomock meet of the season, and that is where we faced one of our only losses, against the strong Mansfield team. After that we worked very hard and did not face another loss. Two weeks later we faced the second toughest team in the league, Oliver Ames. We came out on top and we were all very pleased with our performances. As the season rolled along we did very well, then came states. Our top 7 runners, shined as they ran some of the fastest times of the season. This season stood out above all the rest; with amazing performances from our top three runners, Greg Payne, Alex Aliberti, and Brad Willox its no wonder we did so well. Coach McGrail was so happy, her head could have caught on fire. This season meant a lot to all of us and we will remember our battle cry for this season, "For Steve!!".

No Excuses!

VOLLEYBALL

The 2006 season started off with new faces and a lot of potential. Everyday at practice Coach Weymouth pushed us to improve our skills mentally and physically. We had some losses, but made them up with amazing victories.

It was apparent at the beginning of the season that our favorite body part would be the weenis, the elbow flap if you will. Our infamous sleepover consisted of sumowrestling, scaring the sweet little freshmen and having a party in coach's pantry. The Breast Cancer Walk was a huge success. We all put our best efforts to raise as much money as possible. Bear crawls were a favorite on the team, while the football field wasn't mentioned. Spaghetti dinners got us all through the long weeks we suffered at school. This year we had the privilege to meet Aggie, our friend and sister from Hungary. Without her, the season would have been lost. Towards the end of the season, beating Cardinal Spellmen was a championship in itself as we progressed into the State Tourney. Unfortunately, we lost in the first round, but that didn't let any of the North Attleboro Volleyball team get down. We became a family that no one could break up. No excuses!

A Memorable Ride

BOYS' SOCCER

The 2006 boys' varsity soccer team had a very memorable and successful season. This past fall, it was the team's 2nd year in making it to the state tournament again with an overall record of 9-7-2. The boys worked hard to get where they got in the tournament and had to work even harder without their starting goal keeper and captain Mike Mitchell, due to him breaking his fibula halfway through the season. The other captains, Jamie Kelley and Kevin Markie, led the team to the tourney for their very last year on the North Attleboro Red Rocketeer Varsity soccer team just one last time. The senior boys had an awesome four years with coach Steve Santos and Steve Alves and will never forget all the fun and good times they had in practice and in all the games.

GIRLS' SOCCER

Under the leadership of Coach Burgess, and the continued support of the Lady Soccer Club, the 2006 Girls' Soccer team had a season of many firsts. Members of the team started their training in the season to try and improve their already impressive skills. By mid-season the team really started to get along and come together totally. With the right attitude in place, we overcame our rough start and finished the season with Coach Burgess's goal of 10 wins. Our first win was against KP and was followed by many more exciting victories. We went on to beat Foxboro, and Oliver Ames at home. A huge accomplishment for us this year was beating Franklin, KP, Canton, and Stoughton all on our home fields. This year's memories are unforgettable. The team really proved to the Natick League that we are not only able to compete, but are the competition to beat! Congratulations and good luck to the 2007 captains, Kristen McLoughlin and Alix Vandeventer! We know we are leaving the team in good hands and expect great things from you!

Play With Passion

FIELD HOCKEY

The Field Hockey Team had a tough season, but we never let down and took each game as it came. We started our season at the YMCA. We didn't hit the gym or the treadmills. A few of us did hit the dirt, a couple of times. We found that working together and combining skills is the key to success. We took this concept with us when we left and worked hard to apply it on the field.

With this in mind we set off to the field. Everyone knows field hockey can be a rough sport, but we found out first hand how rough it can actually be. Injuries and illness plagued our team and at times it felt like no one was healthy. But we all pulled together and worked with the players we did have. However, injuries healed, and sickness faded.

Running is a must in Field Hockey, and we did a lot of it. Most of us hate it, but we made it fun. We were the best conditioned team, and it showed on the field.

This season was full of fun and hard work. From the first day of tryouts to our last game. We gave it everything we had and never gave up. Even though our record doesn't show it we truly were an amazing team. Good luck next year girls and always remember, play with passion.

Make It Great!

CHEERLEADING

We started off the 2006 fall season, after a rebuilding year, with a strongly talented team. There were nineteen girls on the team, seven seniors, five juniors, five sophomores, and two new freshmen. Our first experience as a whole began at UCA Cheerleading Camp, where we got to bond with each other and make new memories. With the new stunts, dances, and cheers we were able to take back home, we developed a half-time routine that was not only difficult but crowd pleasing. Throughout the season, we got to know each other and formed our "sisterhood". As the season progressed, we experimented with new ideas that brought us to a whole new level. This progression gave us high hopes for the season to come and new goals to reach. As the fall season came to an end, we knew that only bigger and better things were ahead.

CHEERLEADING

Starting the 2007 basketball/competition season with a full team of twenty three girls, three coaches and much support from our friends and families, we were excited and anxious about our future competitions. Our new and improved routine was comprised of harder stunts, faster dances, elite tumbling, powerful voices, and crowd appeal to the extreme this year. We had many practices filled with frustration that seemed never-ending and exhausting but preserved with the consistent push from our three inimitable coaches and leadership from our seven seniors. We recieved a first place win at our frist competition at Holy Name High School that gave us the confidence we needed and drive to excel onto the next competitions. This first place win was only the start of an undefeated streak that lasted through regionals. Even though we fell two points shy of a state championship title, we were proud to take home our second place win and a bid to New Englands. We all knew the next week and last week of practice was going to be even harder but we came to practice with one thing in mind, to redeem ourselves by beating the state champions and winning at New Englands. But sadly we weren't able to proceed to the competition due to a serious injurt that devastated the entire team. So finally the year came to a sudden end. Our minds and bodies were thankful the long year had ended but our hearts wanted to hold on a little longer. The seniors would like to thank the coaches, team, and parents for everything they put in this year and to wish luck for the many years to come.

Blades of Glory!

ICE HOCKEY

The 2006-2007 season of North Attleboro High School hockey season continued development and success against well established programs. The two teams though technically separate, molded together to become a close group of teammates. We fought through our miserable and grueling five AM practices and the long bus rides to and from the rinks. The locker rooms and the bus rides were always sites for hilarious jokes and conversations which will always be remembered. The two teams became adversaries for one night when they clashed in a very physical, emotional battle. NA #2 came out of the fight with a victory and bragging rights but NA #1 continued to surge on and pick up a couple of late season victories. NA #2 finished the season tied for second place with a 9-3 record while NA #1 finished tied for fifth place with a record of 3-4-5. The seniors would just like to wish all the future varsity and junior varsity hockey players good luck next year and we hope you bring North Attleboro their first ice hockey Hockomock championship in history.

Fog Of War

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The 2006-2007 basketball season was full of ups and downs. Almost every loss that came to our team was by a matter of 5 or 6 points, and during the last seconds of the game. Who could ever forget the holiday tournament? Throughout the whole game our feense picked up causing our rivlas to turn the ball over many times. the effort seemed to be all there but in the very last seconds of the game a lucky ending shot put us down by 2 and resulted in our loss to Feehan, giving us the runner up title. Two of our teammates were chosento be on the All- Holiday Tournament team, junior Nicole Matte and sophomore Ashley Kepaa. Throughout these tough losses, we seemd to pull together, as things seemed to fall apart. We finally decided that things need to change, by us coming out of the Sharon gym with an astouding victory. Aalthough we had more losses than wins, we couldn't deny that some of the games we played could be classified as " the greatest games you ever saw." With 2 of our forwards fouled out of the KP game that went into overtime, we though that we were going to have another loss under our belt. A nice tackle by Ashley caused a girl to go to the line with just 20 seconds left in the game and we were down by 1. She then missed both free throws under pressure that resulted in a tie up with Steph Burns and Katie Noll. When Robin Armstrong through up a shot the rebound went to Ashley for the lay-up and we held on for 11 seconds to clinch a victory in the " greatest game you ever saw". We hope that everyone learned from the mistakes made in the past and that the 2007-2008 captains Katie Noll and Steph Burns will be able to take the lead to a great season next year! There were many fun memories that we will hold tight to, like how everyone was in our foxholes and how Coach Del Bonis would always make motivational speeches before games and how coach Herber, would pump us up and prepare us for the fog of war. If there was one piece of advice that we would leave with you, it would be to keep living for the line and always keep dancing! We love you girls!

Our Ship to Success

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The 2006-2007 basketball team had a season to remember. The team's determination and heart led them to a 15-6 overall record. Coach Perron led the team to their 3rd straight tournament bid, but lost in a heartbreaker to a tough O'Bryant team in the first round. However, with great leadership from the seniors, the team pulled off some hard fought victories. After starting off 1-2 their work was cut out for them to pull off a winning season. With endless practices and hard work the team ended the first half of the season 6-4. We came out the 2nd half to prove to the Hock what we were made of. With an ejection of fans, the team's toughness rose to the occasion against Oliver Ames and handed them their first loss of the season. When we returned home to NA, their was a difficult Franklin team standing in our way. After defensively manhandling them, North was victorious. Heading into rivalry week, North came together and prepared themselves for tough games. With D-Wizz draining threes and Farroba losing a tooth, North shot past Attleboro. With a Graham dunk and McLean crossover, North swatted through Feehan. Thank you to Coach Perron for guiding us through high school these past for years. Thank you to Coach Mulkerins and Kennedy for everything you have done, and congratulations to the 2007-2008 captains Kevin Connolly and Micheal Hart.

A Standout Season

GIRLS WINTER TRACK

The 2006-2007 Winter Track season upheld it's high reputation again this year. Although we started off with a smaller group of 46 team members, the girls did not let the number defeat them. Each week the girls set out with a positive attitude, ready to achieve a win. With great senior leadership and a large number of returning athletes, the team was bound for success. We defeated seven out of the eight teams in the Hockomock League. This years group included many newcomers who joined the long-time veterans. The season showed the hock-league what it takes to wear red and white. The desire and passion that each athlete brought to the oval will never be forgotten. Thank you to Coach Estey and Coach McGrail for their dedication and support throughout the season. You have showed us what it really means to compete with your heart. Congrats and good luck to the 2007-2008 captains, Katy Flannery and Amanda Parker. We know we are leaving the team in good hands with big shoes to fill. Keep the north running tradition alive.

Hock Champs!!!

BOYS' INDOOR TRACK

The boys track team came into the season full of determination and will-power to become once again Hockomock Champions. The season started off with tough workouts and lots of dynamic stretching, which everybody loves of course. The seniors lead the team to an outstanding show at jamboree a look into the North Attleboro team to come. With the continuing progress of our team, the team went undefeated until we came across Mansfield, which after a tough, heated battle ended in a close defeat. As the season continued the North boys showed everyone what red and white can do. We ended off with a 7-1 record and a three-way tie for the Hock Dual-Meet Championship. The seniors lead the team with the most points, which followed by an outstanding sophomore class. The 4 by 8 team showed how strong our distance team has become by breaking the school record, followed by Nick Wade's blazing run in the 1000 breaking the school record as a sophomore. As the season came to the end it became evident that the North Attleboro tradition would be continued for years. We will always remember this team through our amazingly awesome spiffy, new Hockomock Championship warm-up shirts. I speak for my co-captains, Anthony Sherman and Jon VanDyne, along with Coach Holster and Coach McGrail, when I say how proud we were to be able to lead this great team.

One Of The Best

GIRLS' SWIMMING

The 2006-2007 swim season was one of the best. With the combined effort of veteraned swimmers and a whole crowd of freshmen, we were able to truly outshine the competition. Intense practices throughout the year allowed us to attain our near perfect record. Both our skill and spirit put us in a position to dominate the pool and our single loss to Barnstable was merely motivation to work harder and close out the season with a bang. Because of the team's strength as a whole we were able to capture second place. Not only did we have a fantastic season in the pool, we also had a party outside of it. The car wash was the fast real success of the season and Chris' barbeque followed only a few hours after. Spaghetti dinner were as rowdy as always and there was plenty of good food (including the staple of our success, Nuge cookies). And who could forget crowded bus rides, Margaret's laugh, dancing at Caroline's, Nuge's questions, cheering, shake that, Maribeth running into Chris' fence, the boys painting themselves, FK throwing snowballs, the sauna, and all the other times that kept us laughing and made us a sometimes slightly dysfunctional but utterly wonderful family.

Back to the Top

BOYS' SWIMMING

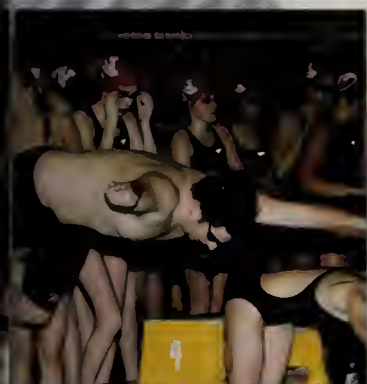

This past swim season has been the basis of the most enjoyable time of my senior year. Before I begin the recap of the season, I would like to speak for my fellow captain, Zach Fichman-Klein, and say that it has been an honor and a privilege to lead such a great team!

We started the year with our annual car wash and a team barbecue. The most memorable moment was CJ's soap dance atop jeep to advertise the fund-raiser, and we managed to raise the most money in team history. This allowed us to purchase warm-up suits. Going into the winter season, the Boys' team had more guys, thirteen, and more money than ever, and we were looking for a winning season. With Zach becoming the team's new all time point leader, the Nooge Brothers helping me sweep the 500 freestyle in many meets, and Brousseau, Nordberg, Smith, Keane, and CJ trading in on lane Crop Circle, we achieved our goal. Even with the task of learning a new sport, Hamilton and Curran seized the opportunity to contribute in the pool, in addition to their zealous sideline cheering. Given the challenge of tackling the 200 IM and 100 fly. Bowen and Reidel produced. The season climaxed at the Bay Colony Championship where everyone exceeded expectations. That included in the pool, as well as almost being disqualified for "over cheering" for the girls.

As the season came to an end it became evident that camaraderie had developed and a new legacy and bar had been set for future years. It was a pleasure, boys.

Building An Empire

WRESTLING

Over the 2007 wrestling season the North Attleboro Red Rocketeers developed into a team that demanded respect and achieved countless goals. The season started like every other; grueling practices and seemingly impossible workouts. Assistant Head Coach Burgess took pride in having the best conditioned team in the Hockomock League and made sure we stayed motivated. The first glimpse of the future success of the team came at the Cumberland RI Invitational, in which we brought home first place with six champions. The season went on and our team grew in strength and skill. Head Coach Griffin instilled us with confidence but taught the importance of respecting your opponents. The spins paid off and we clinched the Hockomock League dual-meet and league meet championships and became the 2nd team in the program's history to go undefeated in the regular dual-meet season. After dominating the MIAA Division 2- South Sectionals with eight champions and a total of eleven wrestlers qualified for Division 2 States we sent two wrestlers to the New England Tournament. The joy ride ended with team's first and only loss in the state semifinals to close out the season with a record 19-1. I'll never forget beating Franklin or the amazing feeling of being a champion but most of all I will not forget the hard work and discipline that made those moments possible. The best thing about our team was our ability to come together and have fun doing something that we all felt passionate about. We formed an empire and the best is yet to come...next year bring home states boys and pin to win. I'd like to thank our coaches for their constant support and unwavering dedication to their athletes.

A Memorable Season

GIRLS' TENNIS

Pasta dinners, bus rides, Mr. Burgess' runs and famous wrestling stretches have made the girls Tennis team have another successful season. With returning varsity players Sarah Cronholm, Blair Dalrymple, Brittany Periera, Ashley Llewellyn, and Michelle Leohtanski and newcomers Jen Lougee and tori Morris, the North girls put up an incredible fight. With another large team this year, we acted like a small group of close friends. With inspirational speeches like winning for Borat and quoting him during practice. it is a season we will never forget. Best of luck next year with your season!

For the Glory of it All

BOYS' TENNIS

This year's North tennis program faced a bundle of expectation heading into the 2007 spring campaign. Coming off a 2006 season featuring a 16-2 record, a load of Hockomock All-Stars, and the departure of three starting seniors, many schools around the league singled us out as a team they loved to beat. As with any sport, with great talent come great expectations. However, this team refused to remain satisfied with the accomplishments of the past. We buried those expectations by refusing to believe that this year's team was the same as teams of the past. We recognized that this was a new year requiring greater practice and dedication to maintain the standard set by the tennis program. In the end, the results speak for themselves: a 13-5 record, good for second place in the Hockomock League. In addition, the team defended their Hockomock Sportsmanship Award title. This season featured a team which I can proudly say started nearly every member of the varsity and JV squads. Even those who did not start played tenaciously in our team's JV matches. Looking back at the season, which was filled with more adversity than in any previous one, I'm proud to say that this team handled the challenges with the class and character expected of the students at the North High.

Reaching High Goals

SOFTBALL

The 2007 season started out great. Two new freshmen pitchers lead our defense to victory over Oliver Ames. We set high goals not only to win but to have fun. Coach Ahern helped out tremendously by pushing us to be the best we could.

Most of us have played together for the past three years and we have gotten to know how to work well with each other as a team. The new players that joined the varsity team this year fit nicely with the rest of the team and everyone adjusted quickly.

The Junior Varsity team led by Coach Weldon did very well this season. They not only had a great defense but a great offense as well.

We all had endless memories this season such as talks at the shed, bus rides, tryouts, practices, our team dinner at Papa Gino's, and our sleepover. We wish you the best of luck next year and we hope you achieve all of your goals. But most of all we hope you work as hard next year as everyone did this year!

Good luck! :)

A Marvelous Inning

BASEBALL

The 2007 Baseball team had another great year with some up and downs but came up short of reaching the South Sectional Final as we did last year. With a few weeks of practice and a couple scrimmages we were ready to begin the season. This year's team was full of character. Whether it was Sherman leaving practice cause coach was making fun of him, Bodi not paying attention during practice and being on his own planet called Bodi Land or Mancini just being a clown. The team was full of team chemistry, which gave us so many times to remember. But we all had the same mind set, and that was to win, and to make a run like we did the following year. We couldn't of asked for a better start going 9-0, but that hit us in the face as we went on to loose the next four. We were in a little hole but nobody on the team had any doubt that we couldnt climb ourselves out of it. With the final few weeks of the season, we became stronger as a team and pulled off a 6-1 finish to give us the 5th seed in Division 1 South. The first round we beat a tough Braintree team to give us a chance against the highly talked about Catholic Memorial. Even though CM beat us, we still had a great year and achieved a lot.

Unbeatable Season

GIRLS' SPRING TRACK

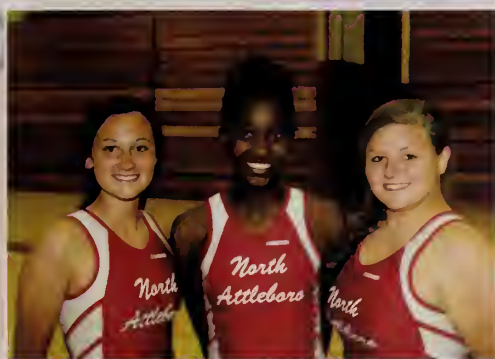

The 2007 Spring Track season was an amazing one. With veteran seniors and talented newcomers the girls track team was unbeatable! We started off the season with horrible weather and rain delays, however that did not stop us. With hard workouts and endless practice we overcame the obstacles and blew away our competition. In between meets, the team came together for a good cause. The North Attleboro Girls Track team raised money to provide education for a child in Kimbia. Together as a team we helped make an impact on that child's life. As our season progressed, injuries tried to set us back but the girls prevailed triumphantly. Our last four meets were our hardest. We came together and beat the skilled Oliver Ames, Franklin, Mansfield, and big rival Attleboro. With a 9-0 record, we were given the title of Hock Dual Meet Champs. Going into the Hock League Meet, with poor weather against us again, North girls performed amazingly. We ended our season with a perfect record. This will surely be a season to remember. Thank you so much Coach Estey and Coach Holster for all your guidance and commitment. Best of luck to next year's team. We hope you receive the same incredible gift you gave to us. Always remember.. show em' what it takes to wear red and white!

Ready to Reload

BOYS' OUTDOOR TRACK

The boys track team came into the season ready to show the Hockomock league what we made of. Full of determination and will-power to become a leading power not only in our league but in the state. The season started off with lots of dynamic stretching and situps, everybody's favorite part. Followed by tough workouts and long mileage for the distance crew. The seniors lead the team with outstanding determination to become one of the best teams around. With the continuing progress of our team, the team went undefeated until we came across Mansfield, which after a tough, heated battle ended in defeat. As the season continued the North boys showed everyone what red and white can do. We ended off with a 7-1 record and a second place in Hock Dual-Meet record. Some outstanding performances from not only our senior class but the junior and sophomore class gave us good odds at the Hockomock Championship. The 4 by 8 team showed how strong our distance team has become by grabbing first, followed by a record breaking performance at States. Kevin Markie also grabbed first in the Triple Jump at League Championship. As the season came to the end it became evident that Coach Herber and Coach Fide owed a lot of the athletes dinner through various dares and bets that we overcame. I speak for my co-captains, Andrew Cherechwich and Brett Badger, along with Coach Herber, Coach Fide, and Coach McGrail, when I say how proud we were to be able to lead this great team.

Unforgettable

GIRLS' LACROSSE

The second season for the North Attleboro Girls Lacrosse team was a very successful one. Our record exemplifies our hard work, dedication, and spirit, and illustrates our team unity. Our vast improvement throughout the season can be displayed by the two games against King Philip; losing our very first game by five, only to return and tie in our second meeting. Although practices and games were tough, the mood was always light. Playing steal the bacon, running laps around the zoo, and inventing new stick tricks and dodges such as the "duck and cover" always made practice entertaining. Surviving the "dust bowl" at Oliver Ames, and Emily chasing Palagi through Westwood Estates are memories that make this team unforgettable. However, the fun times do not stop on the field. Tie dye parties, singing on the bus, and team dinners helped make the team a family. The memories we have of each other will last long after our record and statistics are forgotten.

The first ever Varsity Lacrosse team at NAHS came into the 2007 season not really knowing what to expect. Co-captains Mark Cooper and Tim Ormerod led the team with the help of seniors Evan Averill, D.J. Fairbanks and Andrew Morris. The first few games ended up in losses but the team stayed determined and constantly improved. The team's only win came in a double overtime sudden death victory over Foxboro. The defense was headed by Evan Averill, Josh Impey and Zach Achin, and anchored by goalie Dan Reiffarth. The offense was headed by attack Scott Macedonio, Connor Flynn, and Steve Rollins, with the help of midfielders Mike Curren, Kyle Baiton and Corey Wynn. The record does not speak for the season, but the team always showed improvement, determination, and will. The 2007 Lacrosse team built a program and laid a foundation for future Lacrosse teams at North Attleboro High School.

86TH ANNIVERSARY

The 2007 Fisher Kelley Banquet, which took place at Leona's Restaurant, was an eventful night. Each senior athlete was honored for their hard work and commitment to their sports. Mr. Sullivan began the ceremony with a welcome to all the athletes and parents who attended.

The big event of the night was the Special Guest Speaker, Keith Lapointe's speech. Mr. Lapointe spoke to the athletes about his experiences with sports at North Attleboro High School and how those athletics taught him lessons for his life.

Several awards were presented to the athletes. Fourteen MIAA Sportsmanship Awards were presented, and the Dr. Maurice D. Grant Trophy and Dr. Daniel M. DeYoung Trophy were also presented to those who exemplified dignity and commitment to North Attleboro High School Athletics.

Overall, the night was a complete success and the athletes of the class of 2007 will never forget their passion for North Attleboro Athletics

CLUBADEMICS

To many of us, the best time to be at school is after school. No matter what your fancy is, you can probably find a group of kids that share your passion for drawing, politics, performing or what have you, that meet after school once a week. And if you can't, round up a few friends and a willing teacher and you'll be all set. Clubs give us all an opportunity to meet new people and express ourselves and, above all, to connect.

Pretty in Pink...Wicked in Uniform

Every year, ecstatic fans flock to Beaupre Field to see the Senior Sharks pummel the Junior Jets. This year was no different. The Senior Sharks were lead by John Farroba, Anthony Sherman and Andrew Cooper, while Elijah Harris, Michael Hart, and Kevin Connolly lead the Junior Jets. The ever-confident juniors anticipated a win. Even though the seniors were underestimated, they ended up dominating the entire game. With a final score of 34-20, the juniors were devastated and walked off the field in shame. Better luck next year Jets!

A Night To Remember

When people come together to share unforgettable moments, they become connected. The Homecoming Dance held this year was one of the most successful in recent memory. Girls and boys came in their best casual wear, ready for an entertaining evening. In the past, the dance has been cancelled because hardly anyone cared to come, but this year was different. Anyone could have seen that the night was a hit. People were dancing and singing along to the catchy tunes played by the DJ, class advisors crowned the Homecoming King and Queen, and everyone left with a smile on his or her face, happy that the night turned into a memorable evening. -Liz Malone

HEADSHOT!

Video Club met bi-weekly on Wednesdays in Rm 100. We helped our advisor Mrs. Lush broadcast the monthly School Committee meeting from the Woodcock School. The Video Club travelled to Millis High School for their annual television conference. This was the first year that the video club didn't produce the Senior Slideshow. However, we gave our input to the parents to make sure that they carried out the tradition of making a phenomenal tribute to the senior class.

The

Video Lab Leaders for the '06-'07 school year were Aaron Babcock, Ricky Mallon, Rachael Hill (first semester), and Hannah Rishel (second semester). We helped the video class produce and edit various projects. During the school year, we composed an informational video about Attleboro Enterprises. We also assisted Mrs. Lush in planning our live show.

Lab Rats

This year we had a very large group of dedicated lab leaders. Helping out teachers like, Mr. Duluk, Mrs. Bellavance, and Mr. Jacques, the lab leaders always had something to do. It wasn't always easy but we worked hard and found a way to get the job done. We tried our best everyday to keep our wonderful science teachers organized. Whether we were mixing chemicals, organizing materials, or washing glassware, we were having fun! I hope next year's lab leaders will embody the same enthusiasm that we did. Caring, Honesty, Respect, and Responsibility

The YMCA Leaders Club is devoted to community service. Each member reflects the core values of the YMCA: Honesty, Respect and Responsibility. We enjoyed Leaders School '06, bonding with many other YMCAs from New England. We had another successful year under the leadership of Dan Millin and Steve Demers for Uptown and Adam Lapointe for Downtown. We performed many community service projects including Haunted Woods, Healthy Kids Day and Rainbow Kids Day. We also took a break from all of our hard work to go to the seasonal Leaders rallies and to host a Leader's Prom at Christina's in Foxboro. Best of luck to the four graduating vets, Adam Lapointe, Steve Demers, Dan Millin and Zach Meilan, as they pass on the legacy of GVs '07! Good luck to the Leaders Club next year! - Adam Lapointe

World Leaders of Tomorrow

On March 31, 2007, nearly seventy students and teachers from area schools including Hopedale, Southbridge, Natick, and Falmouth the Fifth Annual North Attleborough

Nations Conference. The conference was hosted by the NAHS Model UN club at North Attleborough High School. In their committees, students represented different countries and worked together to find solutions to some of the most pressing world issues. The Security Council, lead by junior Tom Howard, discussed genocide in Darfur, Sudan. The United Nations Environmental Programme, lead by sophomore Nick Howard and freshman Austin Rainville, probed the international implications of global climate change. The General Assembly, lead by senior Alex Aliberti and junior Sara Krasney, investigated the illicit "blood diamond" trade fueling conflicts in central Africa. The International Court of Justice, lead by junior Nicholas Dicola, discussed the legality of the use of nuclear weapons as a deterrent. Senior Anna Long and junior Amber Cowley oversaw logistics and helped the conference run smoothly as officers of the Secretariat. The day concluded with ice cream and awards. Outstanding students, selected by committee leaders, were recognized for their excellence through the day. - Anupama Khan was a great success! We had the honor of holding a Model Senate conference at our very own high school. All the surrounding schools came to North High to debate the world issues that exist in today's society. We also organized and had fun with many in-school Model Senate debates. They're Bringing Sexy Back

With the help of the Fab Four, Katie Cahill, Steph Carone, Liz Malone, and Gina Zagami, and several other individuals, Mr. NAHS came back to North Attleboro High School in 2007. The show was sold out and everyone knew that it was going to be a hit. The boys opened up with a dancing routine to the song "Sexy Back" by Justin Timberlake, choreographed by the cheerleaders. Each contestant showed off their casual and formal wear, giving interesting and hilarious answers to the host's tricky questions. Then the contestants entertained the audience with their outrageous talents. However, one guy stole the show with his outstanding comedic routine that will go down in Mr. NAHS history. Chris Cummings was crowned Mr. NAHS 2007, with Pat Keister as the runner up. No one will forget this special night, the night the seniors brought sexy back... yup.

And Mr. NAHS 2007 is... CHRIS CUMMINGS!

Chris took home the crown this year thanks to his hilarious comedy act, as well as his dashing good looks in formal wear and witty responses to the hosts' questions. Chris started performing stand-up in response to a bet he made with Mr. Holster earlier in the year, and has since performed in front of his Humor and Satire class, the cast of the One Act Play Festival, and for the Senior class on Formal Class Night. For the past 30 years, Galadriel has been NAHS's literary magazine, publishing original student artwork, poetry, prose, literature and photography. Advised by Ms. O'Brien and headed by co-editors-in-chief Brianna Savard and Anupama Khan, Galadriel accepts submissions throughout the school year. Near the end of each year, the Galadriel staff rate each submission and the ones with the highest rankings make it into the magazine. We then edit, print and sell annual copies of the magazine to students and faculty members for a very affordable price. For the past two years, we have also held an art and literature contest, in which the winners receive a prize and automatic placement in the magazine. -Brianna Savard

On Thursday, December 14, 2006, North students participated in the 2006 North Attleborough High School—David R. Vito Science Fair, recently renamed in honor of science fair guru and retired biology teacher, Mr. Vito. Ms. Tara Bennett coordinated this year's fair with the help of Dr. Cavedon and Mr. Salmond. The students' projects were scrutinized by teachers, classmates, and scientific experts who judged the fair. At the end of the day, Mary Lou Hedberg, Anupama Khan, Shweta Kitchloo, Tom Howard, Abigail Glennon, and Joe Marino walked off with First Place awards. The top scorers from the school fair attended the regional science fair in March where they swept up 5 of 8 first place prizes. All of the North participants in the regional fair qualified for the state fair in May where, once again, they excelled. - Anu Khan

The "Community Service" Club!

This year the National Honor Society worked really hard to make our annual Craft Fair a great success. All of that hard work paid off! This year's Craft Fair was one of the most successful Craft Fairs yet and there were many rave reviews. The NHS also took on new endeavors. With a goal of raising awareness for the crisis in Darfur the NHS sold T-shirts, wristbands, and collected money for the cause. As Usual the NHS participated in events like the Special Olympics and Relay For Life. This successful year would not of been possible if it weren't for our wonderful advisors Mrs. Coleman and Mr. Wing! Thanks for a wonderful year and Good Luck next year!

SCAR, a student coalition against racism, is based on a standing up to one's ethnic background, race, and sexual orientation. This year in SCAR, we had meetings that taught our members different strategies to put an end to bullying and discrimination. We encouraged our members to get involved in as many cultural events as possible. In the organization SCAR we have also focused on influencing the younger generation that racism is a big deal in society and that making fun of someone's culture or background can hurt an individual. SCAR has ultimately taught individuals how to deal with racism, bullying, and different cultures. It spreads knowledge to its members in order to help others as well as change people's perspectives.

The Music Department

With a change in band directors this year, seniors, officers, captains and section leaders got a chance to meet with Mr. Rizzo over the summer to introduce ourselves and start planning for band camp. We knew that this year would be a fun and productive year with our promising new director. The Marching Band played an exciting field show this year entitled "Superheroes," performing the Batman, Superman, and Incredibles theme songs. In addition to having a great season of performing at football games, concerts, parades and a final field performance, the marching band and Friends of Music organization accomplished the greatest feat of all: raising over $31,000 in one year to equip the band with new uniforms for the 2007-2008 season!

The Concert Band performed at the Fall Concert, Winter Concert, All Bands Night, Fine Arts Festival, Great East Festival (Six Flags), MICCA, and the NAHS Graduation. Throughout the year, the music we played challenged us and brought us to new levels of musicianship. This was proven when we received the first silver medal the NAHS Concert Band has ever earned at the MICCA competition, performing Marches des Parachutistes Belges, In Heaven's Air and Havendence.

The jazz band was an auditioned group of traditional composition who met once a week to rehearse. We performed a few selections from a set of nine tunes at a number of concerts and other local performances. This year, the jazz band competed for the first time at the highly acclaimed IAJE competition, achieving an honorable silver medal in our very first year of competing.

Oye Como Va!

During the second semester, the percussion opened opportunities for students to perform in yet another group, this time more focused on the drummers. With the help of percussion and marching drumline instructor Jason Kiff, we performed at both the Spring Concert and Fine Arts Festival this year with a limited number of weekly rehearsals. Utilizing essentially every percussion instrument available, we performed the more traditional pieces, Beyond the Stars and Valley of Nepal, as well as a crowd favorite made popular by Carlos Santana, Oye Como Va.

This year, the Concert Choir was an open group, where in the past participation has been audition-based. However, we still had a successful year, earning a silver medal at the prestigious MICCA competition and a gold medal at the Great East Festival. Our repertoire included a variety of styles of music, including madrigals, gospel pieces, Broadway music from the musical Wicked, and a fun holiday song that required the use of kazooos.

DON'T FEED THE PLANTS!

The Theatre Co. began its '06-'07 season strong with the return of many talented actors and techies while adding a few new members to its roster. Mary Chase's "Harvey" was chosen as the fall play, featuring Garrett Meeks in his very first role as Elwood P. Dowd. The play also featured Emily Fornara (Veta-Louise Simmons) and Pete Thrasher in principle roles. The show was a success, and the set was praised as far above the local high school standard. The winter season marked the return of the One Act Festival, featuring "Conventional Behavior" directed by Dave Jackson, selections from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Garrett Meeks, and a selection from "The Complete Works of William Shakespeare (abridged)" by Sean Corbett. Sean Corbett's play, co-directed by Abbie Rickard and starring Maria Norris, Michelle Shore and Bridget Moriarty, was voted audience favorite and several other awards. The spring musical, "Little Shop of Horrors," was a true crowd pleaser, both a theatrical and musical triumph over some demanding material. Principle actors included Kyle Marcolini (Seymour), Bridget Moriarty (Audrey), Pat Keister (Mushnik), and Matt Divoll (Orin).

In their third year running, The North Attleboro Coffeehouses have raised over $15,000 for various charities including Toys for Tots, the Brain Tumor Society, Massachusetts Eating Disorder Association and our own music department. The monthly charity events, primarily held at the Oldtown Church in North Attleboro, allow artists of all ages and talents to perform. Seniors Shayna Baldasaro and Sarah Olson continue on with this tradition started in 2004 by Kait Clavette and Cara Fertita, and plan to pass on their positions to juniors Lauren Coffey and Lauren Foster. This year, a committee was formed to help organize the coffeehouses and discuss possible charities, as well, which holds monthly meetings open to anyone willing to share their time and effort. - Shayna Baldasaro and Sarah Olson

SENIORS

Seniors are the best North Attleboro High School has to offer. After twelve long years of school, these North boys and girls have become men and women ready to head off to whatever life has in store for them. These individuals have become woven together and connected in a million ways to become the Class of 2007. We are more than scholars; we are athletes, actors, volunteers, citizens, and friends. North students will always be bonded by their time together in Big Red

Class of 2007

Class of 2007 History

Freshman Year

What can be said of freshman year besides all the stereotypes? We were the little kids in a big new school. There were no teams or color coded lockers and that freaked us out in a big way. We navigated the big school and eventually began to get a hang of things. We elected President Michael Handzo, Vice-President DJ Fairbanks, Secretary Derek Demers, and Treasurer Steph Carone to try to explain that the upstairs and downstairs were just two big loops. These class officers built floats for the last Homecoming Float Contest and helped with our class's very first Freshmen-Sophomore Social. We endured chants of "Freshmen Cleanup" and, for the most part, had an entirely routine freshmen year. Summer came and we took our next step through high school.

Sophomore Year

As sophomores, we thought we owned the place. We reveled in the fact that we weren't freshmen anymore. We elected President Nick Chagnon, Vice President Doug DiCola, Secretary Jessica Hoff, and Treasurer Michael Handzo. Sophomore year hit us with a lovely little test called MCAS. Students and teachers alike abhorred it, but we needed it to graduate. Arguably our greatest victory for the year was our miraculous second place finish in the Spirit Contest at the Thanksgiving Day Rally. After a sad showing freshmen year, we were able to prove that we weren't entirely pathetic. We were a year older, a bit wiser, and many learned a word or two that still haunt their dreams: Mr. Jacques. We survived our last sane year of high school unaware of what lay ahead as upperclassmen.

Junior Year

Junior year was, well, an experience. It was essentially the beginning of the end of High School. From that point on everyone was so busy that the time began to fly past. We began taking SATs and we started the infamous college search. President Dan McNamara was elected along with Vice President DJ Fairbanks, Treasurer Shannon Swanson, and returning Secretary Jess Hoff. This group along with the Prom Committee and our outstanding advisors, Mr. Herber and Mrs. Heile, planned and hosted an enormously successful prom at Lombardo's in Randolph. Prom Queen Djerica Lamousnery and King Anthony Metrano dazzled at our "Fire and Ice" themed ball. Hypnotist Frank Santos came to NAHS and dazzled us with the things he could make people do. As juniors, we finally got to throw our hat into the ring at the Powderpuff Game and, unfortunately, it was thrown right back at us as we lost to undeniably talented Senior Sharissa. We persevered, however, and headed into our Senior Year.

Senior Year

Senior Year was an amazing one. The first few months hit us with the gruesome college applications process as we all tried to decide where we want to go and then have to write a thousand essays in order to go there. The time leading up to our applications was unbelievably hectic as we were suddenly forced to choose the course of the rest of our life. Among the chaos, the Senior Class had re-elected the highly popular team of President Dan McNamara, Vice President DJ Fairbanks, Treasurer Shannon Swanson, and Secretary Jess Hoff after a successful Junior term. One of the Seniors' greatest achievements was to revive the Homecoming Dance. Not only did we bring it back, we had an outstanding time. Our Powderpuff team had its opportunity to redeem itself and enjoyed a crushing victory over the Junior Jets. Our Thanksgiving Day rally was also a success as the Seniors effortlessly dominated the Spirit Contest, particularly embarrassing those silly Juniors. We also went to the Freshman-Sophomore Social and, well, we won't be forgetting that one for a while. As college application deadlines came and past, we entered the agonizing wait for admissions decisions. We anxiously awaited decisions from our dream schools. When March and April rolled around and we finally got into our schools, it at last occurred to us that this was it; we would be leaving soon. The Seniors began to have an outstanding time as we cherished the time we had together. Classes continued, but Senioritis had finally struck even the most steadfast of students. Some teachers gave up but the valiant Mrs. Burke kept it going until the last bell on our last day. The Seniors had one last dance together and it was amazing. Our Senior Prom was held at the Taunton Holiday Inn and we arrived completely decked out to enjoy our Las Vegas themed dance. The prom was a great success and we all had a great time. The Seniors were ready. We'd survived 12 long years to get where we were. We'd earned it. The class of 2007 moved on.

The Senior Prom took place on May 19th at the Taunton Holiday Inn, where North Attleboro's finest partied the night away. The ball rooms were decked out in glitz and glamour to complete the attractive Las Vegas theme. The custom picture back drop and Frank Sinatra solo's tied the night together. After perusing the stocked buffet the lights dimmed and the party started jumping.

The night rocked on until the surprising announcement of Idryis Harris and Jessica Grimes as the 2007 Senior Prom King and Queen. Temperatures kept rising through the night as the dance floor was expanded to let the party grow. Senior Cook-In

For the second year in a row the weather forced the Senior Picnic in doors. However the seniors felt right at home in the pit. Senior class advisors Mrs. Heile and Mr. Herber along with Mr. Gay served hotdogs and cheeseburgers as the seniors mingled and got sometime to relax. As people spilled out onto the courtyard a large game of hackey sac broke out that welcomed anyone to join. Some students enjoyed poetry that they had long forgotten from freshman year that Mrs. Lush handed back as a kind of time capsule. The company was better than the food but everyone enjoyed the opportunity to stop and enjoy being a part of the Class of 2007.

Informal Class Day

After a short time apart the Class of 2007 gathered again to celebrate with the underclassmen and rehearse for the upcoming graduation. The Informal Class Day started off with some quick laughs when Chris Cummings turned his humor on the staff of NAHS and asked the ever important question... "Where is the other half of Jaques?" The Northern Lights yearbook committee announced Mr. Russo as the recipient of the Year Book dedication. The Class History and Senior Slide Show highlighted all the great memories we shared during the four years of high school.

The night began with Abby Rickard and the senior singers reciting a moving song by 5'oclock Shadow entitled Tribute. Students were rewarded for their hard work with the President's and Principal's awards along with many others. The Athletic awards were appropriately passed on to Anthony Sherman and Kathleen Hennessey. As the graduates filed out of the Pickering Gymnasium they knew they were one step closer to Graduating.

Senior Reception

Following the Formal Class Night the graduates filled the senior hallways to begin the Senior Reception. The reception line seemed endless and hands grew tired of shaking. But every once in awhile a familiar parent would come along that made the time connecting with each parent worth while. The line finally ended and the cafeteria quickly filled with laughter and camera flashes. The finger food went quickly as the parents met up with their sons and daughters. The DJ kept the celebration going as friends posed for pictures and parents shined with pride. The entire event was rather short but each graduate walked away with the good wishes and hopes for the future from each and every senior parent.

Caps flew and shouts of joy cut through the applause as the newly graduated Class of 2007 marched out of North Attleborough High School for the last time. Families gathered and cameras flashed, capturing the smiling faces of the high school grads. The summer started off with a blast with the all night graduation party. An amazing turnout guaranteed the night to be a huge success. The gym was turned into an amusement park with sumo wrestling, gladiator, and bungee racing. Volunteers served an endless assortment of snacks and treats including the essential all you can drink coffee. A DJ and dance floor transformed the second level weight room into a club. The time zipped by and the long awaited hypnotist performance finally arrived. Frank Santos performed a hilarious show in which hypnotized volunteers were put in uproarious situations. Early in the morning the raffle buckets were stuffed with tickets as the lack of sleep took its toll. However the party kept going strong as everyone wrote messages to friends on their photo posters. At four o'clock the raffle results were in and prizes ranging from baseball tickets to mini fridges were handed out. Everyone left very tired, very full and extremely happy to have shared just one more time together as the class of 2007.

Don Juan, Djerry, and Grandma an unlikely trio have united on this day the 21st of June, 2007, a day which will live in infamy, to defeat the yearbook. We are armed with munchkins and really old water. Good luck to next years editors. Godspeed.

Don't Feed the Editors!!!!!!

Yearbook Editor is one of the most prestigious titles one can attain at NAHS. And while the post does have its many perks, it is also an excruciating amount of work and responsibility. The good times and the beautiful final product make it all worth it, however. The editors would all like to thank Mrs. Lush for all her hard work and dedication to help us get where we are now. We hope you've enjoyed the book!

Enough said. Oh, and don't get water on them after midnight...

YEARBOOK EDITORS

Steph Carone, Abbie Rickard, and Anna Long had a great time at our meetings. Well, at least we got fed.

2007 Northern Light Yearbook Dedication

Mr. Russo!

This year's Northern Light Yearbook dedication goes to a teacher that represents the overall character of the graduating Class of 2007. The kind of character that welcomes unfamiliar faces and offers a smile to everyone. He is the kind of teacher that respects the students as young adults and doesn't hesitate to say "hey, how's it going", when he passes in the halls. He demands a lot from his students at each level but in return he grants an honorable level of trust, which creates a comfortable school environment. His classes are intriguing with his quirky sayings and adamant opinions which always lead back to the War in the Pacific. The comments on Pierre and the boys or George Bush were common topics. Not a class went by that he didn't go off on one of his famous tangents. Bringing up anything from the weather to the last episode of Family Guy would guarantee fifteen minutes of random stories to take up class time. He always seemed to get all the information covered but sometimes we were able to keep him going all class. The students at North Attleborough High school have the possibility to enjoy many different opportunities thanks to the leadership and encouragement of teachers such as this year's recipient. He is a truly dedicated teacher that educates at many levels including college courses at Johnson and Wales. He is the representative of the Boy's State Club and the symbol of fun here at NAHS. His enthusiasm for Hippy Day creates quite the buzz around school and gives everyone a good laugh. In light of his former job as the literary genius behind G.I. Joe, we the Class of 2007 dedicate the Northern Light Yearbook to the one and only Mr. Russo.
